You Can Develop Your Leadership Skills

... and to be successful in today's climate, you may well need to!

Are you completely clear about the nine distinctions between leaders and managers? Do you understand how men and women communicate differently? Are you confident of the one thing true leaders always do? Do you know when to lead and when to manage? Do you understand the power of perspective so you know how to lead well - whatever your situation or circumstance and whoever you are leading. Do you want to achieve your full leadership potential?

This two-day seminar is an intensive introduction to the essence of leadership, especially for women. In it you will learn:

- the five functions of fantastic leaders
- how to harness the four forces for change
- how to build and mentor an effective team
- the essential knowledge, skills, attitudes and behaviours required to achieve your full potential as a leader.

Develop Your Leadership Skills is the seminar for women responsible for leading or managing people or who aspire to successful leadership.
